[From the Troy Times, January 15.] From the Troy Times, January 15. The doors of the Albany penitentiary yesterday closed upon a man whose brief history is, indeed, a sad one. His name is Virgil S. Eggleston, and he fell from one of the most responsible and honored positions in the army of the United States. Born of greatly respected parents in the village of Palmyra, in this state, he received a good education, and was prepared to discharge with credit and intelligence the duties of a worthy if not a prominent member of society. and intelligence the duties of a worthy if not a prominent member of society. He possessed influential friends, who secured for him a position in the paymaster general's department of the army. While residing in Washington, and performing with fidelity the duties of a clerk in the employ of the government, he became acquainted with the daughter theory Wilson's landlady and eloped.

he became acquainted with the daughter of Henry Wilson's landlady, and eloped with her. They were married and rewith nert. They were married and to-turned to the maternal domicile. Mr. Wilson now interested himself in the young man, whose character was excel-lent, morals unexceptional and intelli-gence superior. With the assistance of other friends, Mr. Wilson procured for the position of paythe bill up at an early day for the purpose of submitting some remarks thereon.

draw the vail of silence. Major Eggleston was in the Modoc war, and was one of the first to enter the lava beds after the cruel murder of General Canby. His heroism gained him some favor with the officers, and his military career now became more promising. The subsequend discovery of the bad conduct of his wif made him desperate, and, for the first time in his life, he became reckless, and engaged in a life of wild disorder and dissipation. The more he tried to do for her the worse she grew. Debts multiner the worse she grew. Debts multi-olied, and sorrows filled his cup to overflowing. At last he began to use the public money to meet his own and wife's extravagances. The sum of twelve thousand dollars had been embezzl d and squandere i, when he was arrest ed, tried by court-martial, and sentenced to be cashiered, and imprisoned in the Albany Penitentiary for the period of five years, and to remain in confinemen until the amount of money embezzled was restored to the government, which prac-tically amounted to a life-sentence. Commissioner Morris thought that the public ought to have the right to run for Chief, as it subserved the public interest.

Commissioner Dodd said that the Chief should be a man of moral force, a man of ability and nerve. He should usve a knowledge of the laws, the nerve to execute them, and prudence and discretion to wisely manage the force, and prevent any overstepping the law in the execution of law.

Commissioner Mahoney thought we should have a practical man in office. Kither Murphy or Bomar would be better than Ander son, for they were tried men.

"The Committee of gentlemen we have the audience. Hon. D. U. Barziza, who supervised the drawing, is our present representative, and one of the most popular men in the district.

"The Drawing was prefaced by an explanation from Captain Foster, of the mode adopted. This was well received and understood, precisely as explained by the circulars. Captain Foster said that while he wished all his home people good luck, he yet was free to say that with the people of poor Mississippi, Louisiana and South Carolina, he felt a greater sympathy, and he did hope they would draw the largest number of prizes, that they might come to a free country, and make a white man's living. This sentiment was received with load cheers.
